JOIN RABBI JAMIE AND FRIENDS FOR AN EXPLORATION OF HOW WE CAN MAKE THE MOST OF THE MONTH LEADING UP TO THE HIGH HOLIDAYS AND THE OPPORTUNITY FOR US TO CHART A NEW COURSE FOR A BETTER LIFE IN THE NEW YEAR.

We'll be reading This Is Real And You Are Completely Unprepared: The Days of Awe as a Journey of Transformation by Rabbi Alan Lew. The book is a classic of contemporary ideas. Quoting the forward by Norman Fischer, "This is Real is an astonishing and unexpected journey through the normative Jewish practice of the High Holidays, a journey that breathes drama and personal urgency into a tradition that many of us had dismissed as too faint to hold what we were feeling...His ten years of committed Zen practice gave Rabbi Lew serious training in a grounded form of meditation. In applying that practice to the normative Judaism he passionately loved, Rabbi Lew was able to find the treasure hidden in plain sight. In This is Real, the force of his personality and the skill of his pen make that treasure vivid."

Beth Chaim has a new Gaga Pit!

Next time you are at Beth Chaim, step out onto our patio and check out our new gaga pit? This fun and exciting game is ready for all to enjoy thanks to Jeff Reitzes, Arie Cohen, and others who helped to design, build and install it.

Gaga literally means "touch-touch" in Hebrew and is thought to have been invented in Israel. It is a variant of dodgeball that is played in a gaga "pit". The game can be played by a group of individual players or with teams. Players hit the ball at each other with their hands, and are eliminated if the ball strikes them on or below the knee.

The Spiritual Work of the Season

Rabbi Dave

As the High Holy Days draw near, I feel excitement, anticipation, and yes, a touch of nervousness. These are not distractions from the spiritual work of the season - they are themselves part of it. Jewish tradition invites us into these Days of Awe not with perfect serenity, but with the trembling awareness that life is both precious and precarious. That duality is sharpened for me this year, as I enter the Yamim Nora'im (Days of Awe) for the first time as your rabbi here at Beth Chaim. Together we are stepping into a journey that binds us with Jews across time and space, and into a new chapter of our own community's story. In that spirit, I want to share with you a passage from Mishkan HaNefesh, the High Holy Day machzor of the Reform Movement. This volume, which I hope in the future to bring into our community's prayer life, is itself a testament to the creative vitality of Jewish tradition. It honors the ancient words of our liturgy while opening doors to contemporary spiritual searching. Among its voices is this reflection by Rabbi David A. Teutsch:

"In our everyday lives, we live with an illusion of control. We guard our health by eating well, exercising, and getting regular checkups. We get ahead professionally by working hard and building effective relationships. At the liturgical moment of Un'taneh Tokef, we are forced to admit how profoundly our lives can be altered by random occurrences over which we have no control. A brain hemorrhage or heart attack can come out of nowhere. A drunk driver can cripple or kill. A parent can have to bury a child. An organization's sudden economic reversals can unexpectedly result in layoffs or firings. A healthy pregnancy can end with a stillbirth. A competent person can be unable to find work. A trusted marriage can collapse. In my heart of hearts, I know that I have as little control as any other sheep in the flock. At the moment of Un'taneh Tokef, I know for a certainty that my life hangs in the balance. When these High Holy Days end, I may be lulled back into my false sense of security, the cocoon of my routine. But today I feel my exposure, sense the danger inherent in life, re-encounter my mortality. My end is dust.

I cannot control the unexpected blows that will affect my family, my job, my health. But I can control how I live with them. T'shuvah (cultivating a spiritual life and returning to Torah), t'filah (cultivating gratitude and connecting with transcendent values), and tzedakah (cultivating generosity and pursuing justice) will mitigate the bad in the decree. T'shuvah, t'filah, and tzedakah will not stop stock-market crashes, lung cancer, or the other blows that come our way, but they can radically transform how we are affected by those blows."

What I love about this passage is its honesty. It does not pretend that religious life offers us a way around tragedy. It does not suggest that if we pray hard enough or live virtuously enough we can escape life's randomness. Instead, it reframes the question: not "How do I avoid pain?" but "How do I live meaningfully with it?" The answer, in Teutsch's view and in the liturgy of Un'taneh Tokef, is found in the triad of t'shuvah, t'filah, and tzedakah. These practices cannot erase suffering, but they cultivate resilience, compassion, and moral courage—the very qualities that make a human life worth living.

As we step into the High Holy Days together, I invite you to consider both the fragility and the gift of your life. What in you longs to return (t'shuvah)? What prayers of gratitude or yearning rise to your lips (t'filah)? What acts of generosity and justice call for your hands (tzedakah)? This is the spiritual work of the season: to stand honestly before the truth of our mortality, and to choose, again and again, to live with purpose and love.

L'shalom,

Rabbi Dave

by Larry Candeub, Director Religious Affairs/Spiritual Life

Please feel free to contact me, Larry Candeub, Bccreligiousaffairs@gmail.com with ANY thoughts you have about this, or things you would like to see in the upcoming months ...it's all about serving our community.

As the High Holy Days quickly come upon us, here are some wonderful ways to help you participate.

- If you are unable to attend in person and would like a prayer book for your home, please stop by the office between 8 am and 3 pm Mon - Fri and pick one up. If you cannot make it during those hours, please let me know and we'll figure it out.

- If you need a ride to/from any of the Services, please let me know. I'll do my best to transport you to BCC and back home.

- This year we will once again be hosting a luncheon after Rosh Hashanah day one as well as Break-The-Fast. We hope you will join us. We will be asking for a contribution of $18 per person, $36 per family, to help defray our costs.

- Our Chazzanut is ready to raise the roof.....lots of familiar prayers and faces to enhance your HHD experience. If you'd like to join, please contact Rana Rines at ranarines@gmail.com

- Our Shofar Service will be incorporated into the Rosh Hashanah Service. Tashlich will take place by the fountain in Sycamore Park at 5:15 pm.

First Friday Shabbat Tradition at Beth Chaim

By Kathie Bleier & Janis Wohlford

About one year ago we began a new tradition with our delicious chicken soup Shabbat dinners (thanks to Rabbi Cohen) and what a wonderful response we've had!

These gatherings have become a favorite way to celebrate Shabbat together sharing good food, warmth and community.

This year, we are excited to mix it up! For example, in September we'll enjoy a spaghetti dinner complete with green salad and garlic bread. And that's just the beginning---there are many more tasty and fun dinners being planned for the months ahead.

Our First Friday Shabbat dinners are a beautiful opportunity to connect with family, friends and community in the spirit of Shabbat. And best of all, it's right here at Beth Chaim!!!

PLEASE RSVP through the link in The Happenings (our weekly Beth Chaim email) so we can prepare plenty of food for everyone. Bring your chavurah, your friends and your family...and join us in celebrating the joy and blessings of Shabbat, together. We ask for a contribution of $10.00 per person or $25.00 per family to cover our food costs.

We look forward to seeing you on the First Friday and every Friday.

Beth Chaim Shabbat Onegs

By Lois Kamoroff & Kathie Bleier

We are excited to begin our second year of fabulous Onegs! We welcome everyone to join us before and after services for our Bring Your Own dinners on most Fridays, except for our special home cooked dinners which are served on the First Friday of every month. Menus will vary and for a contribution of $10/person or $25/family, you can eat hardy and socialize with new and existing friends.

Our Oneg calendar is filling up with evenings sponsored by Brotherhood, Sisterhood, Chavurot, Sunday school classes, and our B'nei Mitzvah students. We welcome individuals to sponsor birthdays, anniversaries, yahrzeits, and Mitzvot by signing up for a special date. Susan Volsky is your contact to reserve a spot now and we will help you as well.

Susan Volsky cell phone: 858-231-8829 or

If you like your trees and shrubs to look like they just came from a nursery, after they have been in your yard for years, we recommend hiring trained nurserymen. We do not butcher plants like too many untrained gardeners or take arbitrary cuts like arborists, we trim to make plants grow correctly.

Plants Unlimited, Inc. is owned by Beth Chaim member John Goldstein and is a division of a wholesale nursery that has been growing wholesale plants for 50+ years. We have won many landscape design, maintenance, and horticultural awards over the decades.

Many landscape professional firms hire us to repair their irrigation problems and ensure the work is completed correctly. One of our founders has been saving homes and businesses from contractors that recommend installing a sump pump inside your home or business, instead of fixing the issues outside and keeping water away from your structures.

Interfaith Council of Contra Costa County – Building Peaceful Community

From Naomi Ehrlich, our Beth Chaim representative for I4C

Although the match period has ended, donations are still welcome and very much appreciated.

Interfaith Council of Contra Costa County

Dear Friend of The Interfaith Council of Contra Costa County,

As we welcome Spring, the Interfaith Council of Contra Costa County (I4C), wishes you warm greetings of peace. For more than 20 years, I4C has worked to build bridges through peacebuilding efforts among more than 100 different faith communities and organizations across the county. This year, we are working to financially stabilize the organization, so we can continue our multi-collaborative efforts.

We are delighted to say that we, once again, have received an anonymous $20,000 matching donation for our Spring Appeal, Bridging Faiths, Building Community, Creating Peace. We are seeking to match this donation in full, by the end of our fiscal year, June 30, 2025. If you or your faith community donates at least $500, we can easily reach this mark! If you donate $1000, we will not only reach our mark, but, this will financially stabilize I4C and allow us to expand our programming, offer better wages to staff, pay for our expenses, and allow a cushion to enable us to really ground our work in what the community needs. We need your donation to make this happen!

You might be asking - Why is interfaith peacebuilding important? I4C promotes peaceful narratives and embraces stories of interfaith cooperation and collaboration. We cultivate respectful relationships with people of diverse faith traditions through group service projects, dialogue, workshops, and interactions that contribute to our common humanity. We act on common values, including empathy and compassion, within the lens of restoration, reconciliation and transformation.

Sisterhood

by Suzie Homer and Jackie Darvill, Sisterhood Co-Presidents

In July, the Sisterhood sponsored a very special welcome dinner for Rabbi Dave and family. An impressive 200 people came to the event, complete with a catered Fuddruckers dinner, a variety of salads and desserts, and even a challah, baked by Debbie Roof that spelled out “D-A-V-E”! A heartfelt thank-you to all committee members and volunteers who made the event possible.

In August, members of the Sisterhood, led by Fran Birnbaum and Debbie Roof, were busy making mini challahs for Rosh Hashanah. Also in August, the cabinet display in Beth Chaim’s entryway was updated by Suzie Homer and Susie Kulwin. View their latest display, “All things Jewish”, which includes special Jewish-themed items that members would like to share. If you would like to display some of your special mementos, please contact Suzie Homer suziehomer@gmail.com

On Sept 7, Brotherhood and Sisterhood are again sponsoring the Beit Midrash’s opening day breakfast. Coming September 10 will be the first annual Mah Jongg Extravaganza. Registration closes Sept 9. With lunch catered by Tal’s, this event is shaping up to be a wonderful event with good food, good friends, and good Mah Jongg.

Mark your calendars! Sunday, October 12 will be the Sisterhood’s annual meeting and will be held inside the Sukkah at 1 pm. By popular demand, the event has returned to a weekend date and will include lunch.

Finally, next time you are at Beth Chaim check out the new Gaga Pit! Sisterhood has agreed to donate $1000 to Beit Midrash for this wonderful addition to the outdoor space at Beth Chaim.

What We Do Together Matters

In July Brotherhood had a fun Bocce Ball Event in Sycamore Park, across Holbrook Drive from Beth Chaim. It was well attended, and everyone seemed to have a good time. Along with playing the actual game, many enjoyed just socializing with others in our community. Looking forward to having a Bocce Ball Event next year.

Here are some of the upcoming Brotherhood events in September and October.

This year, we will be building our Sukkah on Sunday, September 28th at 9:00 AM. All are welcome to join in building our wonderful Sukkah. Tools will be provided, but if you have a portable drill or stepladder, please bring it.

September 7th—Brotherhood Car Show, 9:00 AM - North Temple Parking Lot

September 16th--Brotherhood lunch, 12:00 p.m. at DareDevil Dogs in San Ramon.

September--date to be decided --
Brotherhood Book Group. Review Rabbi Phil’s book - Nick Bones Underground

October 4th--Oktoberfest in the Sukkah.

Modeh Ani – “I Am Grateful”

“Appreciation is a wonderful thing: It makes what is excellent in others belong to us as well.” - Voltaire

In this section of The Star we call attention to people in our community who have gone above and beyond to help us thrive. Say Toda Raba to someone using the link below!

- ❖ Burt Feldstein. Burt is devoted to the Brotherhood and Temple. Many people don’t realize that Burt is both President and Treasurer of the Brotherhood. He is always optimistic and keeps us laughing.
- ❖ Jeff Reitzes. Jeff has taken on many roles in Beth Chaim this past year. In addition to his role as Director of Education he is present almost every Sunday all throughout the school year. He has been the “voice” at Friday night services, singing on the bima with Rabbi Cohen and Rabbi Dave, while being responsible for livestreaming services and other occasions. He even stays at Beth Chaim on Friday nights and assists the Oneg Committee with cleanup and secure lockup. Most recently he did all the woodwork for our new Gaga Pit! He is our unsung hero who sang us through services all year!! The Beth Chaim Community is so grateful for all that you do.
- ❖ Shelby Margolin and Alex Lofrese for setting up and cleaning up for the Rick Recht concert. Lots of effort after everyone else went home.
- ❖ Sandi Morris, for years of graciously hosting Book Group and mah jongg in her home. We wish her best of luck in her new home in Lincoln, but so glad she will be continuing to join us at least monthly at Beth Chaim, for Sisterhood lunches, HHD, and other services and activities.

Express your Gratitude!

We would like to recognize Beth Chaim members who have “stepped up”, or “given back” to our Beth Chaim community. As this is a community recognition, we would like the community to recommend members that are deserving of this honor.

Please take a moment to let us know who we should recognize. It’s easy. Just use the link below to nominate someone you think deserves to be noticed for their contribution to our community.

Spotlight on new members Bonnie and Len Lester

by Debbie Roof, Director, Membership

Since Rabbi Dave started at Beth Chaim on July 1, we have had 4 new member families join Beth Chaim, and many more are in progress – they just need to complete the paperwork! Help us spread the word throughout our community about our new inspirational Rabbi.

Please invite your friends and relatives to join us as our guests, for a complimentary spaghetti dinner for the First Shabbat in September, on Friday, September 5. They are also welcome to join us for our High Holidays. Rabbi Dave and Rana will be leading all three types of services at the High Holidays this year – adult, family, and tot. Check the Happenings for details and the schedule!

If your friends or relatives have children who might be interested in signing up for our religious school, please have them contact Shelby. She can arrange for them to come to our Preview Day on Sunday, September 7, so they can try out our Sunday School program on the first day as guests.

Please welcome back the following members, who recently rejoined Beth Chaim:

Steve and Stephanie Brandel

David Lipsky and Betty Dominici (Lipsky)

In addition, please welcome a new young family from Livermore who has joined Beth Chaim:

Ilya Golosker and Natalie Kostinski, and their children David, Benjamin and Rachel, who will all be starting in our Beit Midrash, in grades 5, 3 and TK.

Here is some interesting information you may not know about new members Bonnie and Len Lester. They came to the July 11 Welcome Shabbat Service and Dinner for Rabbi Dave and joined Beth Chaim a few days later. They have been attending most of our Shabbat services, Sisterhood and Brotherhood events ever since they joined!

Beth Chaim: Tell us how you found out about Beth Chaim:

Bonnie: Our realtor is AJ Cohen. He encouraged me to join our Beth Chaim community. I am

Jewish but work as an interfaith chaplain. In addition, I spend most of my time teaching pain recovery strategies and lifestyle medicine to people of different faith traditions. I was looking for a spiritual home.

We have only been at Beth Chaim for six weeks, but we already feel such a connection with the people we have met at Beth Chaim.

Beth Chaim: Where did you both grow up?

Bonnie: I grew up in Marin. After graduating from San Rafael High School, I went to San Francisco State for undergrad. I went to graduate school in Massachusetts and became a licensed clinical social worker. I was also a public health educator, before I became an interfaith chaplain 25 years ago.

My husband Len grew up in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and went to Carnegie Mellon College. He served in Viet Nam. Then he went to graduate school at University of Hawaii. He worked as a computer programmer until he retired in 2022. Len has also been a musician. He plays piano and spiritual drums.

Beth Chaim: Tell us about your religious background:

Bonnie: I had a typical reform Jewish upbringing. We belonged to Congregation Rodef Shalom in San Rafael. My brother had a Bar Mitzvah, but I quit Hebrew School and did not have a Bat Mitzvah. Len was raised Christian, but he did not become affiliated with organized religion. He was always reading about different religions. Ever since he met me, Len really enjoyed the Jewish holidays, which we mostly celebrated in my mother's home in Marin.

Beth Chaim: How did you two meet?

Bonnie: I met Len when I started my program in Berkeley to become an Interfaith Chaplain. One of the classes I took was on Spiritual Healing. He was a musician in a band formed for spiritual healing that we were learning about. We became good friends, and eventually we got married, even though I had a serious disability.

At age 33, in 1986, I got hit by a drunk driver. I developed Complex regional Pain Syndrome (CRPS). The surgery I had for it in 1988 made it much worse, and it spread and intensified throughout my body. I became permanently disabled. I lost the use of my left hand, and I was left-handed. For many years I suffered from intense chronic pain throughout my body. When I met Len years later, he became my husband and my caregiver. However, in 2010, Len had a sudden medical event that made me realize I needed to start figuring out how I could get better and not rely on a caregiver.

I became pain free, by training my nervous system to be less reactive to any sensations. In September 2024 I published my book all about this, called “Unwinding Pain, Affordable and Accessible Ways to Unwind Pain”. At that time I also launched my YouTube show “Unwinding Pain T1M”. On this show, every day I give evidenced based strategies for reducing physical and emotional pain, helping with PTSD, etc. I also have a website, BonnieLester.com, where people can sign in or zoom for free, to meet with me. Len does all the computer work for my blog.

As an Interfaith Chaplain, I also do a lot of memorials and funerals, especially for people who are not affiliated with a particular religion, even though I am Jewish. I do a lot of hospice and bereavement work, too.

Beth Chaim: What do you enjoy so far about Beth Chaim?

Bonnie: When I joined, I immediately made an appointment with Rabbi Dave, which was wonderful. He watches my videos and is aware of my work. Len and I are both interested in taking upcoming adult education classes from Rabbi Dave.

Len and I have both really enjoyed getting to know the members at Beth Chaim. I enjoy being in the kitchen and helping the Oneg Committee. We don’t just show up – we participate. We know it takes a lot of work to have a nice Oneg every week, and we like to help out. Even though we are new to Beth Chaim, we feel that familiarity, since we all have a common experience with our Jewish backgrounds. There is a certain warmth we feel amongst the Beth Chaim community when we are all together, that we have really enjoyed.

Chavurot at Beth Chaim Congregation

We have five active Chavurah groups, involving about 100 members! They are a fun way to make close friends among the membership at Beth Chaim and attend temple events together.

If you are looking to join a Chavurah group, please contact Debbie Roof at debbie.roof@yahoo.com chavurah* - a small group of friends who get together to socialize, celebrate and have fun. Joining a chavurah enriches your experience as members of Beth Chaim, through meaningful relationships and positive connections.

Shelby Margolin
Principal, Beit Midrash

September is here, and with it comes both the excitement of a new Beit Midrash year and the reflective spirit of the High Holy Days. In our tradition, Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur invite us to both celebrate and reflect, taking stock of our lives, imagining who we can become, and stepping into the new year with intention. I feel so lucky that this season of personal reflection mirrors what I do each year—preparing for another year of learning, growth, and connection together.

We've already had a beautiful start. Our Annual Summer Sing Out was an extra special event, as we brought in the one-and-only Rick Recht! We had over 160 people on our patio, schmoozing, noshing and singing together. Rabbi Dave, Rana, and Rick made a pretty stupendous team, and our kids, teachers, brotherhood and sisterhood all took the stage as well! We also broke in our BRAND NEW GAGA PIT!! A HUGE thank you to Sisterhood for their generous donation, and for Jeff Reitzes' and Arie Cohen's hard work building the pit. This special night was just a taste of what's to come, and we can't wait to keep singing, dancing, and celebrating together throughout the year.

Our staff retreat followed soon after, and I can tell you this: our team is ready. The energy, creativity, and passion in the room were palpable as we began diving into our new Shalom Learning curriculum. Shalom Learning offers a tangible and practical way to achieve our goal at the Beit Midrash: to partner with families to raise mensches and provide our children with a safe and celebratory place to build Jewish community. Every grade focuses on 7 Jewish values, each with a developmental and age appropriate lens. Our values are: Teshuva, turning/returning to one's self; B'tzelem Elohim, in the image of God; Gevurah, strength and moral courage; Achrayut, responsibility; Hakarat Ha Tov, recognizing the good; and Koach HaDibbur, the power of speech. Our curriculum uses these values to explore Torah stories, the deeper meaning of Jewish holidays, Hebrew, and more. Our teachers and madrichim are excited to be unified in such a concrete way while also having unique, grade-appropriate activities.

Speaking of new curriculum, I'm excited to announce that Hebrew sessions are back in person at Beth Chaim on Wednesday evenings! We'll kick off the day at 4:30 with pizza and gaga, then children will move into class time. At 6pm, we'll move into all-school Hebrew games to make sure we end with a BANG. I'm truly in awe of our Hebrew teachers for their hours of work building the games and finding ways to make the transition to in-person Hebrew as seamless as possible. I look forward to seeing your children on Sundays AND Wednesdays!!

This year promises to be filled with connection, ruach, and growth. I can't wait to welcome everyone back on Sunday, September 7th, for our opening day and breakfast, and to see you at our upcoming services and celebrations. As always, please reach out with any questions—or just to schmooze.

Shanah Tovah! May this year be filled with joy, learning, and blessing for us all.

We started our year in August, at the request of our teens who “don't want to be in [regular] school without Midrasha!” We launched on August 20th with great energy and lots of teens! We invite our teens to bring friends to start our year. To register or for information visit - <https://paybee.io/@ccmidrasha@83>.

We have quite a few new initiatives starting this year. They include:

1. A new Podcast from our Better Together teens and senior citizens. Made possible by a grant from Sinai and Synapses, CCM aims to publish 4 podcast episodes. Look for the first episode later this Fall!
2. Hamsa Fund and Impact Builder merges to one program - our Hamsa Project. Over the year, participants will volunteer, fundraise, and advocate, so that teens can experience what is needed to make a difference in the world. We'll keep the teen leadership: teens will pick the issues and communities to address, do the fundraising, make grant choices, and choose which non-profits to serve. Greening Beth Chaim – Tikkun Olam Starts at Home!

Remember those green bowls we used to use for all our ice cream sundaes at our Ruach services?

We are grateful to Ben and Jacob Freiman, sons of Harold and Janet, for providing those bowls many years ago, and washing them after every ice cream oneg. We are repurposing them now for our First Shabbos dinners – they work perfectly as soup bowls! We are also excited to say goodbye to those red plastic cups! We now have blue cups that can be washed (even in the dishwasher!) and reused.

All of this helps reduce our waste stream before it starts, which is more environmentally and economically sound than recycling. But we are not giving up on that either, so please be conscientious!

Here are a few housekeeping tips for the next time you are at Beth Chaim for an event:

1. Use the right disposal bins. We will have new signs for extra guidance.
2. Minimize usage of disposable items. Think before you reach for that paper or plastic item.
3. Try to stack your used plates and cups BEFORE throwing them in the trash. Stacked items occupy less space and we will save on waste overage costs.
